

Composing with Images Press <cwipress@gmail.com>

Contact Form Submission from Katie Bosch, Alicia Schwartz, Maria Sebastiano, Danielle White

<whited51@students.rowan.edu <whited51@students.rowan.edu>

Sun, Sep 25, 2011 at 7:26 PM

Reply-To: whited51@students.rowan.edu

To: cwipress@gmail.com

Name: Katie Bosch, Alicia Schwartz, Maria Sebastiano, Danielle White

Email: whited51@students.rowan.edu

Comments: September 26, 2011

Dear Mr. Wolff & Mr. Hara,

Charles Lamb quoted, "A mother's love grows by giving." We have come together to create a book to support March of Dimes in their journey of helping mothers.

This book, Moments to Cherish: A Book about Motherhood, will benefit March of Dimes. March of Dimes is a wonderful organization which helps mothers and families with any issues they may encounter before, during, and even after pregnancy. This book, much like the charity, will include all three stages in a much more broad statement, motherhood. Our intended audience targets women trying to become pregnant, pregnant women, and women that are already mothers.

We would like to include various media genres throughout the book. After looking over various examples on blurb.com we have found a couple of examples for models of our book. In the first book entitled Motherhood, (<http://www.blurb.com/books/1194546>) we like the use of color photography as well as the progression from pregnancy to motherhood. Another model we thought our book could resemble was Joy of Motherhood (<http://www.blurb.com/books/2434113>). In the book, the use of quotes and photographs were very appealing to us. We have intentions for this book to be anywhere between twenty one and forty pages depending upon the amount of responses we acquire.

We hope to obtain many media examples to incorporate into our book. Photographs related to pregnancy, families, and motherhood, as well as any sort of artwork depicting those themes will be inserted into our book. We would also like to receive written poems, letters, and tips that have to do with motherhood in any way.

As this book will help to donate to March of Dimes we will mark up our price to thirteen dollars, this will allow us to donate five dollars and five cents to the non-profit organization.

Each one of us has a significant connection to March of Dimes and because of this connection we chose to work hand and hand with this non-profit organization. We are hoping that our great interest in and love for March of Dimes will be displayed through our work. As four full-time students at Rowan University majoring in both Early Childhood Education and Elementary Education, children and their developmental growth mean a great deal to all of us. We feel extremely fortunate to have the opportunity and ability to compose a book that will help benefit the developmental growth of many children around the world.

We look forward to hearing from you. Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,

Katie Bosch (boschk22@students.rowan.edu)Alicia Schwartz (schwar66@students.rowan.edu)Maria Sebastiano (marram64@students.rowan.edu)Danielle White (whited51@students.rowan.edu)